

May MG

GO DOWN

Go Down. Deep. Real deep. That's what our May MG is all about—SCUBA diving. Our own diving expert Christina Rarick will present to us what it's all about on May 11th at Steve Toth's house in Norfolk. This will be a hands(flippers?)-on presentation showing actual gear and equipment used in SCUBA diving and what you can experience and expect as you venture below the water's surface. Jacques Cousteau anyone?

But wait, there's more! This will also be our elections meeting. Come out and vote for your choices on whom you want on this year's Executive Committee. If you haven't voted yet by mail, come out and cast your ballot in person. Then see the winners announced and join in the speculation about who will be our next Loc-Sec. Will threats and torture be the norm again, or will someone chose to volunteer their life for another year? Come and check out the action.

I ain't done yet—I've saved the best for last!! A reporter from WTKR TV will also be present to interview us, on camera, to show how we act "in our normal environment" as related to the television characters in the "Big Bang Theory"! WOW! The final episode of "Big Bang Theory" will air on the 16th, and everyone will be watching. This will be a great way of getting some publicity and showing the world what we're really all about.

This should prove to be a stellar evening—things from the deep, politics and reporters. Oh my! Start time is 7pm. Bring a treat to share if you like; our hosts will supply beverages and mixers, as well as crying towels and other necessary items. Don't miss this one.

Directions are on page 7 of this issue.

So much rain, so little trash.
But we tried!
